A calling card to pleasure in the royal borough

FESTIVE shoppers can get a head start – and some great deals - with the official launch of the eagerly-awaited Greenwich One Card on Thursday.

Cards will be available from the Eltham Centre during the Eltham Lights Up event which traditionally marks the start of the festive season in Eltham town centre.

Cards will also be available online and from council leisure centres and libraries from Friday (Nov 20).

The One Card gives residents all-in-one access to leisure centres and libraries across the royal borough – what's more, card holders will also be able to use it for discounts and deals from a diverse range of local businesses.

Members will be able to use their Greenwich One Card to access and enjoy leisure and library services run by the royal borough in partnership with GLL. This ranges from improving your fitness at gyms and swimming pools, to borrowing books, DVDs, and using computer facilities in local libraries.

Olympic athlete and Starting Blocks ambassador Zoe Smith gave her backing to the Greenwich One Card last week when she met Cllr Miranda Williams, the council's cabinet member for culture and creative industries, at the brand new Greenwich Centre, which opened this summer.

Zoe, who travels to the USA for the World Weightlifting Championships in this week, also got a first-hand look the centre's state-of-the-art gym, library and swimming pool facilities – that are just a One Card away for local people.

Zoe said: "I am really impressed with the Zoe is also relishing the challenge of the upcoming World Championships in the US. She added: "I'm going to the World Championships in Houston, Texas and I'm really excited about it. I'm training really hard and will belonging to get some personal bests. This is the qualifying event for the Olympics so a good performance is necessary."

Cllr Miranda Williams said: "The council is committed to providing state-of-the-art leisure and library facilities across the royal borough and the One Card will allow easier and more convenient access to these services and hopefully encourage even more residents to use them."

● For further information or to apply for a One Card ask at any library or leisure centre or visit www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/onecard

ICING ON THE CAKE: Cllr Miranda Williams discovers her Greenwich Card can secure 10 per cent discounts at Charlton House's Tea Rooms

local gym facilities here and it's great to hear about the launch of the Greenwich One Card. It makes sense to give people even better accessibility and availability to these services. I am sure that the card will give people a great chance to get involved activities at local centres and hopefully improve their fitness and wellbeing.

Busayo from Thamesmead, said:

“ I really like the idea of the Greenwich One Card, particularly as it puts lots of different memberships together in one card – this will be really convenient as at the moment I have about four different membership cards for various things so I will just have to remember one in the future. ”

Kristian Cashier from Greenwich said:

“ I use the gym at Greenwich up to six times a week – the staff here are lovely. It makes sense to have the Greenwich One Card to bring everything together and make it easier to access services. I'm thinking of joining the library so having a card like that really appeals to me. ”

What is the GREENWICH ONE CARD ?

- The Greenwich One Card is the passport to leisure and library facilities in the royal borough. Members will now be able to access a comprehensive, combined range of services using just one card
- Card holders will also be eligible for great offers from many local businesses that are participating in the scheme
- Residents can apply for it online and pick it up at local leisure centres from November 20
- It is free and does not need to be renewed, so once you apply, the One Card lasts a lifetime
- It will replace the old Greenwich Card with residents able to get the same services and deals, but with a whole lot more
- The Greenwich One Card is the first card of its kind in the country

COUNCIL leader Denise Hyland calls in to Pat's Textiles in Eltham which is offering One Card discounts.

Cllr Denise Hyland, said: "The Greenwich One Card is the first of its kind in the country, uniting the community and encouraging residents to get the best deals available from businesses and boost the local economy."

Tracey Warner is manager of Pat's Textiles – a family run business which has been running since 1970 offering made to measure curtains, upholstery, blinds, shutters, awnings and more. Visit www.patstextiles.co.uk

Remembering our fallen heroes

CIVIC, military and faith leaders came together to witness the unveiling of a memorial to eleven local heroes, who gave their lives while serving their country. The private dedication service, attended by family members, took place at the newly-restored St George's Chapel on Grand Depot Road, Woolwich, last Wednesday morning (November 11) which was also Armistice Day.

Shopkeeper fined for selling illegal alcohol

A SHOPKEEPER was fined more than £3,000 for selling illegal booze and cigarettes.

It followed a seizure of the illegal goods by the royal borough's trading standards team and local police when they inspected the Yogi Mini Market on Plumstead High Street in March.

Officers found a total of 45 bottles of spirits with either fake labels or tax stickers removed, along with four varieties of chewing tobacco with no relevant health warnings and 21 packs of cigar wraps that did not have an English health warning on them.

Suhanty Suresh, 36, was fined £3,002 and ordered to pay it back within 12 months along with costs of £1,685 and a victim surcharge of £42. She pleaded guilty to all offences at Bexley Magistrates court on October 19.

At a licence review hearing the store's licence was also revoked. Mrs Suresh said the alcohol had been bought by a member of staff, and although she was suspicious about it, she sold it regardless in order to recoup the costs.

Cllr Jackie Smith, the council's cabinet member for community safety and environment, said: "This case is an example of a local business failing to take responsibility for the products they sell to our community, and they have paid the price thanks to the thorough investigative skills and expertise of the royal borough's Trading Standards team and local police.

"Local businesses are reminded that the products they sell must comply with trading guidelines and legal regulations. Products must be purchased from registered suppliers and carry the correct health warnings. We hope this case sends out a powerful message to other local businesses in the borough."

● Report illegal trading to the Trading Standards Team on 020 8921 8223 or email tradingstandards@royalgreenwich.gov.uk for more information visit www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/tradingstandards

Crossrail is right on track

GLIMPSE INTO THE FUTURE: the transport minister surveys a construction site in Abbey Wood, inset, computer graphics show designs for the stations at Abbey Wood and Woolwich Arsenal TRANSPORT Secretary Patrick McLoughlin MP made two stops in the royal borough to make sure progress on the two new Crossrail stations is on track.

The minister visited Crossrail construction sites at Woolwich Arsenal and Abbey Wood to see how the project was coming along.

Europe's largest infrastructure project is 70% complete and set to be open in 2019, as part of the government's £38 billion investment in the railways over the next five years.

Work in Woolwich includes the first of 1,000 new homes being built above the station, while the 250-metre platforms, lift shafts, and floors are almost finished. Work will start early next year on the complete fit-out of the station.

Foundations of the Abbey Wood station are being installed with the building becoming visible above ground for the first time since the project began.

by Simon Banks

The station is set to open in 2017.

Journey times and connections will be improved between SE London and the capital with journeys from Abbey Wood and Woolwich to Canary Wharf reduced to 11 minutes. When full services commence in December 2019, Crossrail will provide links to Reading and Heathrow in the west and between Abbey Wood and Shenfield in the east.

Patrick McLoughlin said: "The progress that Crossrail is making is truly impressive, and it is great to see how the project will not only provide better journeys for passengers across London but will also support massive regeneration in the surrounding areas. Rapid transport links to the City and the West End will unlock investment and jobs, supporting further economic growth and local development. Crossrail is proof that our plan to build a rail network fit for the 21st century is firmly on track."

Cllr Danny Thorpe, the royal borough's cabinet member for regeneration and transport, said: "In 2018 two brand new Crossrail stations will open in the royal borough bringing huge benefits for the borough and its residents through a fully integrated transport system that will open up South East London and make it more accessible to the rest of the capital. We are particularly proud of securing a station for Woolwich station after a hard-fought campaign during the project's early stages. The new station will mean there will be six trains an hour connecting Woolwich with central London in less than 15 minutes."

New homes for old

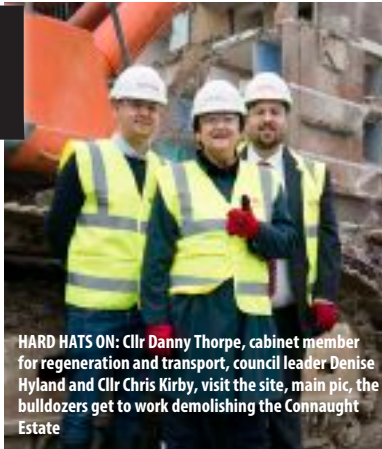

WORK has started on more than 600 new homes on the site of the former Connaught Estate in the heart of Woolwich town centre.

The development is set to provide 239 affordable properties to residents from February 2017 with the first homes for sale available from May 2017. Local residents will also have access to apprenticeships and training opportunities, which could lead to long term employment.

Representatives from key partners in the project came together to celebrate the start of the project during a demolition ceremony last Tuesday (November 10). They included developers, Lovell, the Asra Housing Group and the royal borough.

The development is part of a wider £300m scheme to redevelop three sites in Woolwich including the Morris Walk and Maryon Road and Grove estates. It will see the demolition of 1,064 homes and the creation of more than 1,500 homes with 35 per cent of these available for rent and shared ownership.

Cllr Chris Kirby, the council's cabinet member for housing said: "The regeneration of the Connaught Estate forms part of the Royal Borough's £300 million programme to create modern housing as well as training, employment and business opportunities for the community. The overall programme will create new housing and new communities which will become an integral part of the wider regeneration of Woolwich Town Centre. We are excited that construction is now commencing, which will bring much needed housing and amenities for local people."

Have your say

on the proposal for the new Silvertown Tunnel

We're giving you an opportunity to have your say on the proposal for a new tunnel at Silvertown, before a planning application is submitted in Spring 2016.

The new tunnel will:

- Reduce queuing at the Blackwall Tunnel by providing a nearby alternative river crossing
- Offer new cross-river bus link opportunities
- Support the creation of new jobs and homes

Our scheme includes a proposal to introduce a charge to use the Blackwall and Silvertown Tunnels. This would help manage traffic-flow and fund the new tunnel.

Not always antibiotics

THE first ever World Antibiotic Awareness Week runs from November 16-22 and the royal borough is supporting the international campaign by encouraging residents to think twice before asking their GPs for antibiotics this winter.

Both the council and the Greenwich NHS Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) have joined the online 'Antibiotics Guardian' campaign, in which organisations and individuals pledge to help spread the message about treating antibiotics as a precious resource.

Patients are being asked to reflect on how often antibiotics are really needed and follow some important tips:

- Antibiotics should never be shared
- Always complete the full course of antibiotics – don't save them for the future

● Prevent the spread of infections, by regularly washing your hands, particularly when preparing food, avoid close contact with sick people and keep vaccinations up to date. Cllr Denise Scott-McDonald, the council's cabinet member for community wellbeing and public health said: "By helping to support doctors to prescribe only when necessary we can help keep our antibiotics working for those times when we need them most."

Dr Ellen Wright, Clinical Chair of Greenwich CCG, "Using antibiotics more often than we need to means that bacteria become 'cleverer' and change in response – leading to antibiotic resistance."

ROYAL BOROUGH OF GREENWICH

Heroes who will n

A MOVING ceremony at the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month brought bereaved families together to see their loved ones commemorated on a new permanent memorial at St George's Chapel.

Guests were welcomed by Greenwich Mayor Norman Adams and council leader Denise Hyland. They included MPs Clive Efford and Mathew Pennycook, military leaders, and representatives from different faiths, the Royal British Legion, the police, and the London Fire Brigade.

The Bishop of Woolwich led prayers and an address was given by Earl Howe, Minister of State for Defence and Deputy Leader of the House of Lords. A bugler sounded the Last Post, followed by a two-minute silence.

Cllr Hyland said: "Today we commemorate eleven people who have made the ultimate sacrifice for their country, or who have died as a result of conflict since September 1945.

Eleven people who are seen as heroes – not just by their loved ones here today, but also by our residents and people up and down the country. Eleven heroes who will never be forgotten.

"This memorial will act as a lasting legacy that will enable their family and friends, as well as the wider public, to commemorate their lives and their connection with our borough. We also believe it is fitting to host such a tribute in Woolwich – a town with historic military links – in order to ensure that all of these brave men receive the recognition they deserve. We are very proud of these men and we know their families are very proud too. Today we recognise the sacrifice they made."

The chapel, which is owned by the Heritage of London Trust, will be open to the public every Sunday from January when to work to restore it to its former glory have finished.

It was chosen as the location for the memorial after discussions with the families who agreed it was the perfect location because it is an army church, located opposite Woolwich Barracks, and provides a peaceful location for reflection and remembrance.

Private Rayment's father, Gordon, paid tribute to his son. He said: "Chris was born just down the road from this chapel. He was a big character. He enjoyed sport and followed Charlton Athletic Football Club. Our family has a long military history which we are very proud of. This chapel is a fitting place for this memorial, which helps to remember my son and these other men who gave their life for our country."

The eleven service personnel and civilians being remembered are:

Warrant Wardmaster, James William Alexander McDuff, who died on active service on February 1946, aged 51 and is buried in Charlton Cemetery, Greenwich.
Private George Edward Turner who was born in Woolwich in July 1932. He served with the Royal Norfolk Regiment in Korea and was killed in action on June 27 1952 aged 19.

Fusilier Denis Frank Jacobs who was born in Woolwich in July 1927. He served with The Royal Fusiliers in Korea and was part of Operation Pimlico, a mission to capture one of the hills in an area known as 'The Apostles'. He died during the operation on November 25 1952.

Fusilier Stanley James Anstead who born in Woolwich in May 1930. He also served with The Royal Fusiliers in Korea and was part of Operation Pimlico. He also died during the operation on November 25 1952.

Gunner Richard Copeland Sloan Dunne who served with the Royal Artillery and died on November 7 1974 when the King's Arms public house, Woolwich, was widely reported to have been bombed by the IRA.

Alan Horsley who was a part-time sales clerk who died, aged just 20, in the same incident in the King's Arms public house, Woolwich.

Private Christopher Gordon Rayment was born in Greenwich in 1982 and was with The Princess of Wales's Royal Regiment. He was serving in Iraq, when he died in an accident on August 4 2004.

Fusilier Donal Anthony Meade who joined the army in 2002 and served in Northern Ireland and Iraq. He died on September 5 2005 in Iraq as a result of wounds sustained during a patrol in Basrah province.

Lieutenant Tom Tanswell who was born on February 23 1979 in Greenwich. He was commissioned into the Royal Artillery in 2004 and was deployed to Crete, Poland and Iraq. He died on October 27 2006.

Lance Corporal Jake Alderton who lived in Eltham and joined the Army in 2001. He was deployed to Afghanistan attached to the 2nd Battery of The Yorkshire Regiment and died on November 9 2007 during an operation in Afghanistan.

Fusilier Lee Rigby who joined the Army in 2006 and was posted to the Second Battalion, The Royal Regiment of Fusiliers in Woolwich. He served in Cyprus, Afghanistan and Germany. He was murdered in Woolwich on May 22 2013.

Their names are engraved on brass plaques inside the chapel alongside a marble memorial featuring the royal borough's crest.

Book of remembrance

A BOOK of Remembrance has been created by the council to honour those who gave their lives in the service of their country since the Second World War, or who died as a result of conflict. It also remembers civilians who lost their lives, including those killed when the IRA bombed the King's Arms pub in Woolwich in 1974.

The book is based in the Town Hall in Woolwich and there is an online version at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/remembrancebook

People are invited to add their own tribute or suggest others who lived or served in the borough to be included.

Highlighting our historic links

THE royal borough has long and ongoing links with the military that date back centuries.

Greenwich's historic links with the Royal Navy are world-famous while the Royal Arsenal in Woolwich supplied munitions and military hardware to the armed forces for generations.

The Royal Artillery Barracks in Woolwich are home to the 'Vikings', the 1st Battalion The Royal Anglian Regiment. The infantry battalion has been deployed in Afghanistan, Mali and Bulgaria. The King's Troop Royal Horse Artillery are also based at the barracks.

The council is dedicated to honouring these historic links, which are highlighted every year with the joint Great Get Together and Armed Forces Day celebrations.

Council leader Denise Hyland said: "We are exceptionally proud of the relationship we have built with the army, and the soldiers who are stationed in our borough are very much part of our local community."

Tributes around the borough

LIFE in the borough came to a virtual halt over the weekend (November 7&8) as people of all ages stood in silence for two minutes to remember the dead of two world wars and other conflicts.

Wreath-laying ceremonies took place in Eltham and Charlton organised by the Blackheath and Charlton branch of the Royal British Legion. The Abbey Wood and Thamesmead branch organised ceremonies the same day. The following day, the Eltham and Well Hall branch held a Remembrance Day Parade, and veterans and youth organisations laid wreaths at Eltham War Memorial.

Also on Sunday, the Abbey Wood and Thamesmead branch held a remembrance service before moving on to the war memorial in Abbey Wood Gardens.

SCENE

AS the end of the Eltham Winter Arts Festival approaches, there's still time to follow the town's first ever art trail.

Eighteen venues in and around the town centre opened their doors to showcase the work of local artists as part of a three-week celebration of local art and creatives, including three local art galleries.

The festival, launched on October 31, runs until November 22 and was organised by Eltham Arts, a collective of local people who came together to highlight and promote the work of local artists.

Over the last few weeks residents and visitors have been treated to a showcase of artistic events and activities including art, poetry, music, theatre, talks and quizzes. It all ends on Sunday (November 22) when everyone's invited to a festival finale event at the White Hart pub, which will include Punch and Judy, a children's painting competition, family Sunday lunch (bookings 020 8850 1562) music, open mic and roving poets.

In the meantime, check out forthcoming events over the next few days and a range of displays in the art trail. Displays are up in a range of places from galleries, shop windows, cafes and historic buildings to the local community centre and theatre.

Eltham Arts chair Gaynor Wingham said: "This is the first time we've done anything like this. We are fortunate to have three galleries in SE9 and a wealth of local artists. There are a range of exhibitions, which have been

BIDDING FOR PROPERTIES

People on the Housing register are able to bid for all properties, regardless of their banding. You must be eligible for the size of property and bids will be considered in the following order:

First Band A, followed by Band B both in priority date order.

Those in Band C will then be considered in registration date order.

Please note that there will still be some properties with age restrictions so only people of this age group can apply for these.

BAND

- A is for applicants in unsatisfactory housing, including people moving due to demolition and those underoccupying their homes.
- B is for applicants the Royal Borough of Greenwich must prioritise according to the law, particularly homeless people, and others with an urgent need to move for medical or welfare reasons.
- C is for all applicants on the housing register, including those that are in priority bands A and B.

How do I apply?

1 Get on the list

First, you've got to be on the housing waiting list to join the scheme. If you're not, register an application on line at www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk

2 Find your applicant number

It will be on the letter you've already had from the Royal Borough of Greenwich about the new scheme. You'll need that number and the reference number of the property you're after, which will be on the advert.

3 Pick out your ideal property

by looking in Greenwich Time or regularly checking the website:

www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

Click on your preference on the website. If you don't have a computer, you can always use one for free at either The Eltham or Woolwich Centre or a local library.

4 Apply in one of three ways

- Text bidding is now available and the number to use is 07786207913. For further information please see page 2, or
- Phone the 24-hour hotline 020 8921 4340. It's an automatic push-button system and calls will be charged at the normal local rate, or
- Via the Royal Borough of Greenwich's website www.royalgreenwich.gov.uk/homes

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR ROYAL BOROUGH TENANTS WHO ARE MOVING

DON'T GET A BILL AFTER YOU LEAVE

Under the conditions of your tenancy agreement, you have a responsibility to leave your property in an acceptable state of repair. We may visit you to check this. If we consider your property is in an unacceptable condition, you may be prevented from moving or be recharged for work.

To avoid getting an unwelcome bill, follow these rules:

- Repair any damage caused to the property by you, your family or visitors to your home.
- Make good any changes you have made to your property e.g. put back any doors that you have removed.
- Make sure your garden is not overgrown and you have cleared all garden waste.
- Clear all your items from the inside and the outside of the property. This includes any loft space, external cupboards or sheds.

Men behaving sporty

MEN are urged to get in shape so they can compete in Thamesmead's first ever badminton competition.

They're being encouraged to sign up for the tournament which is taking place from 7:30 - 9:30pm on Thursday December 17 at St Paul's Academy in Finchale Road, Abbey Wood.

It's all part of a national campaign for Men's Health Month - November - designed to raise awareness about men's health and encourage more men to get active.

The badminton tournament has been organised by Now's the Time, a three-year partnership project which offers sport activities for just £1 per session at venues across Thamesmead. The programme was developed in accordance with residents' interest and is backed by Trust Thamesmead, Gallions, Peabody, Bexley council and the royal borough and Sport England, supported by Charlton Athletic Community Trust.

Clr Miranda Williams, the royal borough's cabinet member for culture and creative industries, said: "Badminton is a fantastic form of fitness. Playing regularly strengthens the heart muscle and fitness level and increases good cholesterol while decreasing bad cholesterol. It's also a great way to socialise and we of course encourage healthy competition. We hope residents will the scheme - not just for the contest but on a regular basis."

Badminton player Stephen Benton, 50, said: "I hadn't played badminton for many years before joining Now's the Time. It's a fantastic way to keep fit and a great way of meeting new people."

Weekly Badminton sessions are held at St Paul's Academy, 7:30 - 9pm on Thursdays so residents have plenty of time to get some practice in before the competition.

Gymnast Ellis sets her sights on Rio

by Dick Townsend-Smith

GYMNAST Ellis O'Reilly from Eltham has successfully secured a place for Ireland in the next stage of the qualifier for the 2016 Olympic Games, to held in Rio in April.

The athlete is one of more than 70 young athletes backed by the borough's Starting Blocks Trust which supports aspiring athletes with the costs of training and competing. She competed in the artistic world championships in Glasgow, representing Ireland last month.

Her mother Jackie said: "Her score means she has successfully secured a place for Ireland to the next stage of the 2016 Olympic Games qualification in Rio. So Ellis has made history. She will have trials before Ireland decides which gymnast will go to the test event to hopefully qualify for Rio."

'FANTASTIC': Ellis O'Reilly in action at Glasgow

So how did Ellis feel about enabling Ireland to qualify for a place at the test event for the first time? She said: "My focus was for clean competition without major error. We knew that was what we had to do to win the place. I'm really proud to have achieved this for Ireland."

Ellis recently took silver in the individual beam final at this year's Northern European Championships held in Limerick. She also picked up silver medals for the best all-round individual and team.

● The Starting Blocks Trust was hosted its annual fundraising gala dinner last Thursday (November 12) with guests Sky Sports presenter and former gymnast Jacquie Beltrao and snooker champion Steve Davis. See full report in next week's GT.
